

ARRAIGN MRS. DALE MONDAY.

PROSECUTION PROMISES AN HISTORICAL MURDER CASE.

Pellee Say Her Husband Will Come From Chicago to Appear Against Her—Waller Released on Bail—Friends of Woman's Dead Father Will Help Her.

The body of five-year-old Emeline Dale, whose mother is under arrest in Hoboken on a charge of having caused the child's death, will be placed in a receiving vault in one of the local cemeteries to-day by her mother's request. Mrs. Dale, who is still in St. Mary's Hospital in Hoboken, appeared to be in better condition yesterday than at any time since her arrest.

Elbert Waller, the Dutchman who was arrested on a charge of living with Mrs. Dale in open lewdness, was released from the county jail on bail yesterday. As he had a room adjoining Mrs. Dale's the authorities will probably find it difficult to prove the charge against him. Waller's bail was $1,000 cash furnished by J. R. Planten, the Dutch Consul in this city. It was said that the money was supplied by a wealthy relative of Waller's who lives in this city, and that Waller went directly to the home of this relative after being released.

The Hoboken authorities asked the Manhattan police to keep Waller under surveillance as it was believed he might attempt to sail for Europe. A demand was made on the Western Union Telegraph Company for copies of the despatches that passed between Mrs. Dale and Waller. Mrs. Dale and Mrs. Matilda Miller, a servant in Mrs. Dale's home in Chicago, and of those sent by Mrs. Dale to her husband, referring to the dead child. The company, however, refused to turn over the telegrams without a court order.

Mrs. Dale will be arraigned in the Recorder's court in Hoboken to-morrow night. The prosecution, however, according to the Prosecuting Attorney will at this time make public only enough of their evidence to hold Mrs. Dale for the Grand Jury. Dr. Kulich, who was summoned by Mrs. Dale to attend the child, Russell Dale, a brother of the woman's husband, who came to Hoboken to bring habeas corpus proceedings on behalf of the child's father, got possession of the child, and the physicians who have analyzed the contents of the child's stomach will testify.

Assistant Prosecutors Vickers and Schuyler, who will be one of the most sensational murder cases in the history of the country. Why the prosecutor believes this case will be one of the most sensational murder cases in the history of the country, why the prosecutor believes this case will be one of the most sensational murder cases in the history of the country, why the prosecutor believes this case will be one of the most sensational murder cases in the history of the country.

On the contrary, he said, the woman always seemed to treat the child as if it were her own. He declared that he had seen the child on the day before the child died. Mrs. Dale went to New York and bought a new dress, new shoes, a new hat and new underclothing for the little girl.

Capt. Hayes of the Hoboken police says that Waller will be used as a witness against Mrs. Dale, and that the woman's husband, H. S. Dale, will come on from Chicago to testify against her. While the Captain was discussing the case with another Hoboken official, the latter made some remark about the case. Capt. Hayes was asked if the prosecution intended to try to prove that the child had been strangled. He replied that they would try to prove that the child had been murdered.

Mrs. Dale's father, the late Dr. Joseph W. Howe, had many friends, and it is believed that they will help her. Among these is Ewald Fleitmann of Fleitmann & Co., silk and woollen importers, who and his wife, Mrs. Fleitmann, are well known in this city. Mr. Fleitmann is a very wealthy man, President of the National City Bank, a trustee of the Atlantic Mutual Insurance Company, a director of the Germania Savings Bank, a director of the German Life Insurance Company, a director of the Germania Insurance Company, and interested in other commercial concerns here.

After Dr. Howe's death Mr. Fleitmann and his wife took care of the daughter for a while. Then Mrs. Fleitmann took her to Europe, to the home of the child's grandmother in Berlin. When her grandmother died Mrs. Dale received an annuity of $2,000. She still has this. Mrs. Dale's special guardian under her father's will was the Hon. Joseph Wolff, State Senator from the New York district of this city, who died a few years ago.

CAPT. HARBOUR'S MASOCT.

He Is Going to the Philippines and Wants the Ugliest Bull Pup That Can Be Found.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 23.—Capt. James G. Harbord of the Eleventh Cavalry, now detailed in the Bureau of Insular Affairs of the War Department, surprised all his associates to-day when he declared that he wanted the ugliest bull pup that could be found, for Capt. Harbord is one of the most peaceful officers of the army and no one would suppose that he would take kindly to an animal which, above all others, is so prone to give him worry and trouble. When he told Col. Edwards, Chief of the Bureau, of his desire to possess a bull pup, Col. Edwards was heard to say:

A man he owned a ferrier dog. A ferrier dog, you say. And that there dog got that man into many an ugly mess.

When asked why this sudden determination to be possessed of a bull pup, Capt. Harbord said that when he learned that the Eleventh Cavalry was to be ordered to the Philippines he requested the Secretary of War to send him to the front with his regiment.

"Now that I am to go, I want to take with me as a mascot of my company the meanest, ugliest, ugliest, fightingest bull pup that I can get," he said. "I don't do it for long. For Capt. Harbord's wish to become known throughout the War Department, and Billy Pannell, one of the colored messengers to the Secretary of War, was immediately commissioned to find such a dog; but he has not found it yet.

W. W. SCRANTON ARRESTED.

Select Counselman of Scranton Charges Him With Libel.

SCRANTON, Pa., Nov. 23.—William W. Scranton, the millionaire President of the Scranton Gas and Water Company, was held in $500 bail this afternoon on a charge of criminal libel preferred by Wade M. Finn, a member of the Select Council of this city. Recently there arose a controversy over an increase in the water rate. The Scranton Gas and Water Company was severely criticized. In a report printed in a local newspaper, President Scranton alleged that certain members of the Council had solicited bribes from him.

Mr. Finn introduced in the Select Council a resolution calling upon Mr. Scranton to prove the soliciting of the bribes or else to make a retraction. In a morning paper to-day, the millionaire printed a denial of what they can to help Mrs. Dale. Among these is Ewald Fleitmann of Fleitmann & Co., silk and woollen importers, who and his wife, Mrs. Fleitmann, are well known in this city. Mr. Fleitmann is a very wealthy man, President of the National City Bank, a trustee of the Atlantic Mutual Insurance Company, a director of the Germania Savings Bank, a director of the German Life Insurance Company, a director of the Germania Insurance Company, and interested in other commercial concerns here.

FALSE SCARE ABOUT GUDEN.

NEW SHERIFF OF KINGS WON'T KICK OVER THE TRACES.

So at Least He Implies in an Interview—Lieutenant-Governor Woodruff After a Talk With Him Pronounces the Current Reports Preposterous.

The rumors that Sheriff-elect Charles Gudén of Brooklyn, the Republican and Citizens' Union candidate at the recent election, was going to kick up a rumpus in the Republican organization by distributing most of the patronage of the office among opponents of the regular managers are apparently without foundation. A few days after his election it was reported that Mr. Gudén intended to dissolve political partnership with Col. Michael J. Dady, with whom he has been in close alliance in the factional squabbles, first in the Third ward and later in the First Assembly district, and ally himself with ex-Senator Jacob Weiss, ex-Sheriff William J. Butting and Bert Weiss, who have been long in bitter opposition to Lieut.-Gov. Timothy L. Woodruff and Col. Dady, and are still eagerly watching their opportunity to undermine their political props in the control of the Kings county organization.

On Friday it was definitely announced but not on Mr. Gudén's own authority that he had even decided to make Bert Weiss his counsel, and had also practically decided on other appointments equally as obnoxious to the organization managers, as that of Weiss. The situation seemed so alarming that a despatch was sent to Col. Dady, who is in Havana, informing him of what is going on and urging him to come back as soon as possible, so as to bring Mr. Gudén, who owed his nomination almost entirely to Col. Dady's influence, back into the regular political traces. Col. Dady telegraphed back that he would be in Brooklyn early in the week, at the same time expressing his astonishment at the shocking tidings he had heard about his friend, the Sheriff-elect. When he does return he will probably find that Mr. Gudén is not the ingrate he has been pictured.

That Mr. Woodruff himself was also worried over the situation is presented from the fact that he changed his intention to witness the Yale-Harvard football contest yesterday and remained in Brooklyn to clean up the tangle of politics. He had a long conference during the day with Mr. Gudén and last night he said:

"Mr. Gudén told me that he had so far made no appointments, and that he was willing to await Mr. Dady's return before taking action. He also said that there were certain places in the office which were in the nature of personal appointments and I told him that that was perfectly proper for him to take that view of the matter."

The story that Mr. Gudén intended to join the Worth-Battling-Reiss combination and strengthen it by giving each of them a slice of the patronage Mr. Woodruff pronounced "preposterous."

This what Mr. Gudén himself had to say to a SUN representative last night:

"I have not as yet made a single appointment. I am going away on Wednesday and will not return until the following Sunday. My appointments will not be made until I come back. I have not even appointed an Assemblyman. A great many Republicans have applied to me for places and I have them on my list. In regard to the so-called 'personal appointments,' as I am a Republican, it is only right that I should select persons in whom I can have implicit confidence."

Mr. Gudén will have nearly fifty jobs at his disposal, and interest in his selections is intensified from the fact that under the new law, making the office of Sheriff of Kings county salaried instead of a fee office, most of the places fall under the civil service rules and the incumbents cannot be disturbed by Mr. Gudén's successors.

Gov. VAN SANT'S APPEAL.

Asks the Governors to Meet to Act on Railroad Consolidation.

ST. PAUL, Minn., Nov. 23.—Gov. Van Sant has issued the following letter to the Governors of North Dakota, Montana, Idaho and Washington:

"It is plainly evident that the controlling interests of the Great Northern and Northern Pacific railroads are preparing to consolidate these two roads in open violation of the laws of the States through which they pass. I have deemed it sufficient to take steps to prevent the merging of these two roads in Minnesota."

"The laws of your State are similar to those of Minnesota regarding the consolidation of competing or parallel lines, and presuming that you will take similar action to prevent the consolidation of competing lines, I recommend that we meet at some point to be agreed upon for conference in regard to the method of procedure to be followed in each State. Clearly the laws of Minnesota are being violated and I have grave fears that unless united action is taken at once that the road named may pass from the control of the State. It shall be pleased to hear from you on this subject."

Van Sant said he presumed that the conference would be held at St. Paul, though perhaps it would be more convenient for some of the Western Governors to meet in Helena. Attorney General Thos. J. Hughes has been hunting deer in the woods of northern Minnesota, arrived this morning and will immediately give an opinion on the possibility of preventing the consolidation under the present law.

DIRECT NOMINATION SCHEME.

Brookfielders Start Their Campaign to Amend Primary Law.

The Brookfield Committee of 75 met last evening in Lyric Hall to begin its campaign in behalf of an amendment to the Primary Law which will provide for the direct nomination of candidates for offices by the voters at the primaries.

The committee adopted an address to the public outlining its plans and attacking the present system of party management. In this address it said:

The spirit and tendency of party organization should be in harmony with the spirit of popular government as embodied in our constitution and laws, but party organization as exemplified in conventions, in so-called caucuses when under the control of factions and unrepresentative leaders, actually violates constitution and law. Conventions and caucuses have thus become a menace to personal interests and seldom represent the will of the people. In them the party compromised, the people hoodwinked and free suffrage debauched that such a system might gain and retain power.

The Brookfielders said that they were largely instrumental in bringing about the enactment of the present Primary Law, which they declare is excellent so far as it goes. Now they want to have the law amended so that any man who is ambitious to become the candidate of a party for office may get his name on the official primary ballot by petition, the candidate for the nomination will be organized and the largest number of votes of enrolled members will be the party nominee. Mr. Brookfield and his friends believe that if this system were adopted most of the abuses of which they complain in political organizations would be done away with.

It was decided last night to increase the membership of the committee to 100, the twenty-five new members to come from Kings, Queens and Richmond counties. A Special Bureau will be organized and field appointments an Executive Committee of twenty-five, with full power to act on all questions for the Committee of 100. A Speakers' Bureau will be organized and Democrats as well as Republicans will be invited to take part in the agitation for direct nominations.

REPUBLICAN LOW VOTE.

84 Per Cent. of the Whole County, Campaigners Maintain.

It was reported at the Republican County Headquarters yesterday that the figures gathered by the watchers at the canvass of the vote on election night showed that in the city of New York 84 per cent. of the vote that was polled for Low was polled under the Republican emblem, 12.1 per cent. under the emblem of the Citizens' Union and 3.9 per cent. under that of the Greater New York Democracy. It was declared that these figures were collected with the greatest care yesterday printed a table of the vote for Low by organizations which purported to be prepared from the canvass of the vote on election night. The table showed that it was impossible to prepare such a table from the official tally sheets; that the information could be obtained only by the canvass of the vote on election night. This table set forth that in New York county 78½ per cent. of the Low vote was polled under the Republican emblem, 12.1 per cent. under the Citizens' Union emblem, and 6 per cent. under the emblem of the Greater New York Democracy, which is credited with 9.7½ votes. The figures in the possession of the Republican County Committee indicate that 78 per cent. of the Low vote was polled under the Republican emblem, 12.1 per cent. under the Citizens' Union emblem, and 6 per cent. under the emblem of the Greater New York Democracy, which is credited with 9.7½ votes. He is now pastor of St. Patrick's Church, Washington.
